Dear evaluation committee for Journalist of the Year,

Grant is one of the most influential leaders on our campus. His commitment to covering all students in the school is evident as he has done stories about school spirit, diversity, acceptance, and inclusion. His wide range of coverage is significant to me because I am a Special Education teacher. Grant made it a point to come into our classroom to do a story on my Functional Academics students, and any time my kids see him in the hall, he always stops to chat with them. Unprompted, he invited our classroom to watch one of his live shows in December and gave the students a tour of the facility. His grace and respect toward my students watching came naturally.

He skillfully articulates difficult concepts and chooses his words carefully and effortlessly communicates all sides of the stories. Under the pressure of a live show, Grant shows grace, professionalism, dedication on the air but is the same person you see off the air that he is on the air. He is a perfectionist and continually is pushing himself to learn more and do better.

There will be a massive hole in Rock Hill High School when Grant graduates. He represents everything you want your child to grow up to be.

Please feel free to contact me with any questions. My email address is jlreedy@propser-isd.net, and my phone number is 214-998-2501.

Sincerely,
